

Thank you for supporting The "Last Straw Campaign"

Be Organic is an eco supplier of Reusable Straws. The "Last Straw Campaign" was started to reduce plastic in Bali and The World. By using our reusable straws in restaurants, cafe, villas, hotels, and shops you support a plastic straw free world.

Why Reusable Straws ?

- You are supporting reducing wasteful plastic on Bali and the world. Take a look around and you'll find that most folks are gravitating toward awareness that plastic pollution is poisoning our environment. With the immense amount of plastic (especially single-use plastics) being dumped into our landfills and oceans, it is easy to feel overwhelmed with no easy solution in sight.
- You become a supporter of cleaner beaches and fresher air quality in Bali. Plastic is polluting our oceans and making our beaches dirty. Garbage is burned on the side of the roads and effecting our air quality.
- Because it is safe for you to drink from ! Glass doesn't leak toxins into your beverages. Its healthier because plastic straws contain petrochemicals and toxins like BPA and tested lead free.
- Glass straws are dishwasher safe making them easy to clean and sterilize.
- Made from borosilicate glass, the safest + strongest glass commercially.
- Glass straws will give an elegant and stylish presentation to your finest drinks and beverages with a variety of colors, styles, and lengths to choose from.
- Accommodating any type of beverage consumption from thick smoothies cocktail to hot tea.

Did You Know?

Ikat Fabric (Tenun Ikat) is a part of this wondrous Indonesia archipelago comprising a variety of culture, ethnicities, as well as traditional crafts. Ikat fabric is the product of family home industries, not large factory productions. Almost every house in the village with a population of 150 people has a family loom to weave traditional fabrics. They usually weave on the front porch, an activity done during the day while the woman wait for their husbands to return from the farming in the rice fields.

Yayasan Cahaya Mutiara (Shiny Pearl Foundation)

Our Glass Straws holders are sewn by The Shiny Pearl Foundation, a non-profit organization in Bali that assists people living with disabilities. The foundation creates programs to develop self-confidence, physical and economic independence, as well as increase awareness in the general community of the rights of people with disabilities. Shiny Pearl Foundation accomplishes this through the assistance of volunteers, who provide vocational training and social interaction. The society also provides wheelchairs, housing, and runs The Shiny Pearl Foundation, a home for disabled Balinese.

Your purchase is helping the community and support their independence.

About our Be Organic line of Re Usable Glass Straws.

Each straw is made from Borosilicate glass. Borosilicate glass is used for high-quality beverage glassware and kitchenware (a popular brand name is Pyrex®). Borosilicate glassware has increased durability and is microwave and dishwasher safe. It contains no lead or other toxins and is the highest grade of glass commercially available. Borosilicate glass can be used with either hot or cold beverages. It is a high quality glass with a long life span.

Although our straws are durable and strong, they are still made from glass. Treat them as you would your glass drinking stem ware and they will last you for life.

When not using a dishwasher to clean your straws we recommend that restaurants take the following steps for cleaning the Glass Straws. It is best for a restaurant to have at least 50 - 100 re usable straws on hand depending on the volume of drinks they serve.

Steps for cleaning your Re-Usable Glass Straws :

1. Have one safe place to keep all the Re Usable Straws for server to put in the drinks.
2. Take a bucket and put hot water and organic soap for cleaning the straws.
3. Have server collect the Glass Straws from the used drinks and put them gentle in the bucket letting them soak.
4. After the straws have reached 15 - 20 straws the cleaner can clean them in one sitting with the stainless steel cleaning brush that we provide for free.
5. Hand Towel Dry them to be used over and over again.

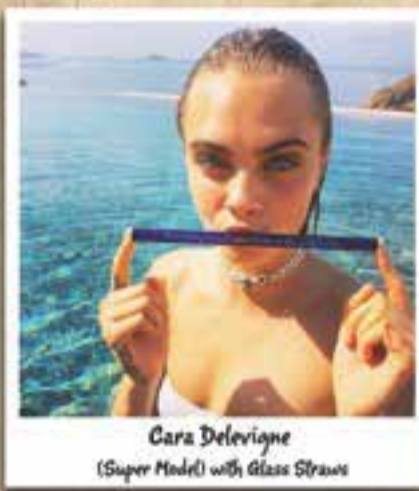

Your support reduces millions of unnecessary plastic straws from our waste cycle.

Glass Straw

Should Bali Declare War on Plastic Straws?

If ever an environmental campaign embodied the motto, "Keep It Simple, Stupid," its gotta be this one, right? Lets get rid of plastic straws and "Kiss" our drinks!

Glenn Adams with his Daughter Gaia along with a handful of eco-minded citizens and the Bali Spirit Festival have banded together to start a campaign to rid all the restaurants, bars, hotels and villas in Bali of unnecessary plastic straws.

They're calling it: "The Last Straw Campaign"

"The idea is crazy simple—restaurants either get rid of straws completely or provide a straw only when requested by a customer. If you want a straw, all you have to do is ask. It's that easy".

Mr. Adams is very excited to have Bali Buda's support as they were the first restaurant to re-duce plastic straw use on Bali by simple having a sign that said we do not serve straws unless you ask for one. With the help of the Bali Spirit Festival the Campaign has already printed 1,000 straws with Reduce, Reuse, Recycle to be given to 100 restaurants.

The Goal is to have 1,000's of Restaurants, Hot-els Bars and Villa's offer Reusable straws such as Glass, Bamboo, or Stainless steel instead of plastic ones. They can offer disposable ones like Papaya stems as well yet "The Last Straw", is a plastic one. They ask that Eco minded consumers use only Reusable straws and support the campaign by letting everyone know about the alternatives to plastic straws.

Mr Adams says "When you Kiss your drink it taste better because your lips have a high number of nerve endings. Yet people love drinking from straws. Glass straws as well as Papaya straws have a high vibration and feel very nice on your lips. They are the best alternative to plastic straws".

According to Emma Snowden, litter campaigns officer with the Marine Conservation Society: "Plastic is a huge problem for our marine wildlife and makes up over 60 percent of all the litter we find on beaches, particularly single use plastic such as bags. She says that "Plastic straws make up a small proportion of all this litter, but if everyone took responsibility to dispose of their litter correctly in the first place it would help massively."

Mr. Adams and his daughter Gaia went to White sands beach in Candidasa and noticed so many plastic straws that washed up on the beach.

Gaia says "We collected over 30 straws in less than 10 minutes. I then thought why don't they use Re-usable straws? My Dad said they probably can't afford them. So I said why don't we just buy them and gift each restaurant Reusable straws. So we did and had a lot of fun giving away the reusable glass straws. The owners loved the idea and our blessings for a plastic straw free Bali."

The Adams Family researched the best straws to use and although they love bamboo straws they felt that hygiene was an issue so they chose Glass straws that have a stainless steel cleaning brush. If every restaurant started using reusable straws and having the Last Straw Campaign post card on all the dining table saying "we do not serve straws unless you ask for one" the reduction of wasteful plastic straws would be very significant. Its a new campaign and one that they hope will spread through Bali as well as other islands. This is truly a nice pay it forward idea.

If you know of any Restaurants, Hotels, Bars, Villa's or a Retail Shop that would be interested in supporting this campaign please have them contact ImagineBali.Org. Every straw purchase helps support gifting Reusable Straws to res-taurants that can not afford to buy them.

You can buy these straws in Ubud at Bali Buda, Yoga Shop, Down To Earth, The Eco Shop, Clear Café, Zula, Soma, Dayu's Warung, Radiantly Alive, and Namaste. In Canggu at Bali Buda and Desa Seni. In Seminyak Earth Cafe, Zula, and Biku. In Sanur at Bali Buda and Zula, and in the Buket at Bali Buda just to name a few.
